

10 Taxes You Can Write Off When You Work From Home

Having a work at home job offers convenience and flexibility. And you can also benefit from the number of taxes you can write off when working from home.

- 1. HOME OFFICE

- A space you use exclusively for business
- Maintenance and repair
- Utility costs: Phone bills, electricity

- 2. BUSINESS AND OFFICE SUPPLIES

- Stationery
- Furniture essential for your business

- 3. OFFICE EQUIPMENT

- Communications equipment
- Computers and related peripherals

- 4. SOFTWARE AND TECH

- CRM software
- Inventory and accounting software

- 5. BUSINESS-RELATED TRAVEL EXPENSES

- Airfare
- Hotel expenses

- 6. FOOD AND LEISURE

- Dinner with clients or colleagues
- Meals during travels

- 7. LEARNING

- Training or education needed to grow your business
- Books, webinars, training modules Workshops, conventions, seminars

- 8. MARKETING AND ADVERTISING COSTS

- Print ads
- Business cards
- Radio ads

Make and Share Free Checklists
checkli.com